Dear Customers,

We are getting ready to start winterizing irrigation systems for the fast approaching winter months. This will consist of draining the backflow preventer, insulation of any uncovered pipes, and the system will be turned off. We will also be offering an insulated bag (this is optional) to protect your backflow preventer from the freezing temperatures. The bag will protect temperatures as low as 20 degrees, whereas insulation will only protect temperatures as low as 32 degrees. Once things begin to warm up for the greatly anticipated springtime, we will come back to open the system and do a walk through. This consists of checking for any repairs that are necessary to ensure quality service and the longevity of your irrigation system.

**No Repairs will be made unless customers approve the work and cost.*

Thank You for Your Business,
